KVM Technology

Proprietary KVM technology enables high-performance and highly secure separation of workstations from their respective computers

Strong position in the well-protected market for high-performance data transmission

Market mapping

- “Mission-critical” applications
- Certification requirements
- Highest reliance / quality requirements
- Premium pricing
- Fewer players

- Standard solutions
- Low range / volume
- Commoditized bulk market
- Lower margin
- Many players

Barriers to entry

Certification and security standards provide access to key end markets that are inaccessible to other players

High switching costs
High initial set-up costs increase customer stickiness and cross- / upsell potential

Intellectual property as key success factor in premium KVM market
IHSE’s rich history of R&D provides the firm with a significant competitive edge

Key security certifications and standards of IHSE

National Information Assurance Partnership – NIAP PP4

- US security standards required in highest-security projects

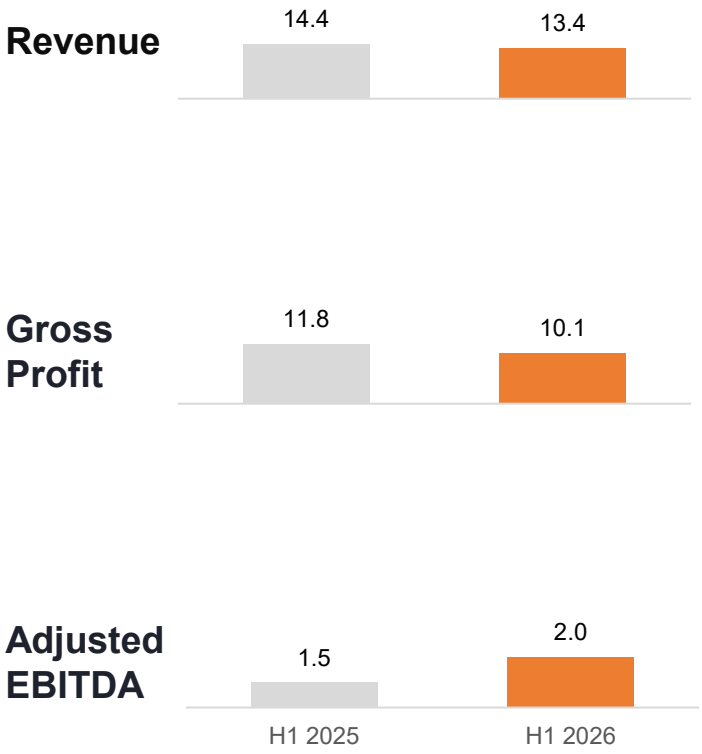

Common Criteria Evaluation Assurance Level – CC EAL 4+

- European security standard required in highest-security projects

Growing defense business

Financials H1 2026

(€ million)

Operational update

New IHSE management since May 2026

Ensure stability and lead IHSE into its next phase of growth

Gross profit margin of ~76%

This was attributable to the product and customer mix in the first half of 2026

Adjusted EBITDA margin of ~15%

Despite lower revenue, adjusted EBITDA exceeded the prior-year figure due to significantly reduced fixed costs

Future growth drivers

- Growing demand from NATO member states for highly secure KVM solutions is strengthening the defense business
- Product certifications for the NATO Information Assurance Product Catalogue (NIAPC)
- Continued market penetration with proprietary, increasingly certified “secure KVM” solutions
- Expansion into previously unaddressed applications (e.g. control rooms for space missions, autonomous driving, etc.)

Note: For definitions and detailed explanations of the alternative performance measures, please refer to page 16 of the H1 2026 half-year financial report.

Enterprise value

Revenue	Adj. EBITDA	Add-ons
>3x	>2x	6

- Bikeleasing more than tripled revenue and more than doubled adj. EBITDA despite growth investments
- The number of corporate customers more than tripled from ~28,000 to ~86,000, while eligible employees grew from 1.3m to over 4.1m
- BKHT completed six add-on acquisitions for Bikeleasing, including four sales agencies, Probonio and Ridepanda

BROCKHAUS TECHNOLOGIES

Note: The total gross proceeds of approx. €248 million from the sale of the Bikeleasing Group and the resulting gross multiple of approx. 2.4x are based on the preliminary purchase price paid at closing. The final purchase price has yet to be determined based on the Bikeleasing Group's completion accounts as of June 30, 2026.

High value realization through sale of Palas after successful further development under the roof of BKHT

Development since acquisition by BKHT in Dec. 2018

Almost doubling of revenue (~€12m to ~€21m), EBITDA (~€3m to ~€7m) and EBIT (~€3m to ~€6m) from 2018 to 2021

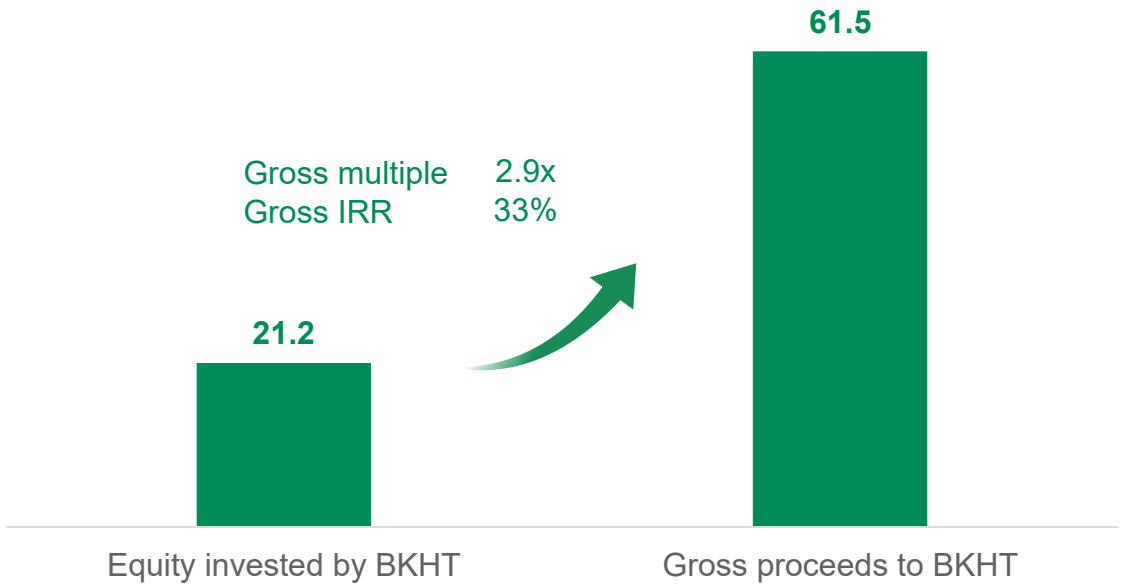

Successful international expansion with market entry and strong expansion in Asia founding subsidiaries in Hong Kong and Shanghai as well as establishing a local team of ~10 employees

Setup of scalable structures for further growth e.g. by expanding the management including hiring a CSO and CFO as well as establishing an advisory board consisting of industry experts from the BKHT-network

Implementation of a targeted growth strategy into new markets and applications e.g. in the unregulated market or through the proprietary-developed data platform for air quality monitoring my-atmosphere.net

Value realization through sale of Palas

(€ million)

Note: In addition to the initial investments and disposal proceeds, the figures presented include all shareholder loans and their repayments, dividends and payments under the management service agreements. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results.
